July 22, 2023 — The fantasy novel “Ever the Night Road” by indie author Michael Breen has been awarded the B.R.A.G. Medallion, a seal of approval from indieBRAG.

The Book Readers Appreciation Group Medallion is a quality-recognition award bestowed for excellence in indie publication. All books submitted for the award are subjected to a rigorous assessment by members of indieBRAG’s global reader team, who grade them based on plot, characters, dialogue, writing style, copy editing, formatting and more. On average, only 20-25% of the independent books considered are awarded the B.R.A.G. Medallion.

Other accolades for “Ever the Night Road” include:

- Gold Medal for Fantasy from the 2023 Independent Publisher "IPPY" Book Awards
- Bronze Medal in the U.K.’s Wishing Shelf Book Awards
- 2022 Foreword Indies Book of the Year Finalist
- Indies Today 2022 Finalist Award
- International Review of Books Gold Badge of Achievement

“Ever the Night Road” is a coming-of-age story featuring female protagonist Dagny Losh. The teenager’s longing for adventure becomes a high-stakes quest guided by the stars and ancient myth, as she and an array of companions encounter danger from both criminal and supernatural forces. Along the way, Dagny will discover the bonds of true friendship, young love and the depths of her own bravery in a brutal and enchanting world.

“This coming-of-age adventure story mesmerizes the reader on multiple levels,” writes Timea Barabas for BestSellers World. “The story has a melodic rhythm for its unfolding. The author also takes his time to paint the atmosphere and the characters’ inner states and have the reader inhale these two worlds. ...After peering into the magical realms, lively slums, and cheerful settlements outlined by the author, resisting the call of adventure becomes futile.”

“Ever the Night Road” is available in print and e-book – including Kindle Unlimited – through Amazon. It is also available through Barnes & Noble.

The anticipated sequel, “Jud,” is expected to be released in late 2023.
